

Our Mission

Boaz & Ruth's mission is to rebuild lives and communities through relationships, training, transitional jobs, and economic revitalization.

It's a vicious cycle. When someone is released from prison, they generally return to the old neighborhood, desperately hoping for a new life. But a decent job, a safe home and healthy relationships are hard to come by in a community weighed down by the very problems and issues that helped spawn the crime to begin with. You can't change a life without changing the community as well. That's what makes Boaz & Ruth's work in Highland Park so unique.

We pursue our mission through three key strategies:

WE REBUILD lives of formerly incarcerated men and women through a transitional jobs and training program.

WE EMPOWER the physically blighted commercial corridor of Highland Park by restoring buildings, incubating and operating businesses like Fire House 15, and providing jobs.

WE CONNECT Highland Park and our program participants to the wider Richmond community through activities that bridge racial, economic, and geographic barriers.

Intertwined, the three strategies create a strong rope of rescue for individuals and their community.

Fire House 15 Shops & Restaurant

Originally constructed in 1915, the Engine Company #15 Fire House was a working fire station located in the once-thriving Highland Park neighborhood of Richmond. Today, it is a tangible expression of the transformation that is taking place in the lives of individuals and the community of Highland Park.

As part of the Highland Park Plaza Historic District, the firehouse has received national and state designation as an historic structure and is described as a "rare example of craftsman architecture in a public building." The careful rehabilitation has maintained the historic integrity of the original firehouse with moderate alterations to allow for new use.

An inviting community gathering place, Fire House 15 provides free wireless internet access, a movie screen, stage, and other technical support for entertaining groups of up to 150 people.

In renovating the historic firehouse, Boaz & Ruth trained and employed 30 formerly incarcerated men over 18 months of renovation. Additional trainees have been involved in every phase of planning, development, construction and management for the project.

Fire House 15 seeks to be a catalyst of economic revitalization in a transforming community. In short, it is the latest extension of the "force field" of hope that Boaz & Ruth is growing in Highland Park.
